CHAPTER VI – EQUITATION OF THE PASO HORSE

Article 1.- The riding of the Paso horse enhances style, grace, rhythm, and the special, particular relationship between the horse and the rider. It is the art of maintaining precise control over a horse, as well as the different ways of handling it to achieve the best possible performance from the horse. All of this is done while maintaining an aesthetic balance and posture that enhances the appearance of the pair: rider and horse. This event is judged 100% within the parameters defined by horsemanship. The quality of the horse cannot be more important than the skills used by the participants to achieve the best performance from it.

A. Youth Rider Position with the Horse in movement:

The position of the rider with horse in motion should be natural, coordinated, balanced and graceful. The ideal posture from the side is one in which a straight line can be drawn perpendicular to the ground through the head, shoulder and hip of the rider. The center of balance is maintained directly on the feet and ankles. The upper arms should fall naturally from the shoulders to the hipbones and must appear flexible, never clutched against the body, never extended forward and away from the body. The rider should be relaxed, very natural in the saddle without the upper body moving from side to side. The rider must remain centered regardless of the gait in which the horse moves without slipping back over the cantle. The rider's position must not interfere with the horse's movement. (Refer to Figure 1):

B. Posture:

The rider should have the ideal posture to enable the horse the best performance. This must be balanced and natural at all times giving the impression of complete and effective control, guiding the horse in the most convenient and efficient manner achieving a high degree of aesthetic and rapport with the horse.

C. Seat:

The correct seat is one in which the rider in a natural and balanced way achieves a deep seat so proper pelvis position can be achieved along with the correct posture of the chest and legs. The body should not interfere with the movement and balance of the horse, thus allowing the best performance. The seat should be centered on the top line of the horse. It should have an appearance of ease and comfort that enhances the relationship of the pair. The seat must not show stiffness and / or stress. Refer to Figure 1.

D. Head Position:

The head of the rider has to stay straight at all times, looking ahead and focused on the direction in which the horse travels to maintain absolute control of the horse in movement.

E. Back Position:

It should be straight, firm but not stressed, rigid or stiff. Must have a natural appearance. It should not be tilted, arched or curved. The shoulders straight, but never tense.

F. Arm and Hand Position:

The arm should fall as naturally as possible without the elbows going over the perpendicular line to the shoulders of the rider. The reins should be carried in one of the following ways:

1. A rein in each hand entering below the little finger and extending upwardly with the excess rein dangling to the right side of the horse. Each hand should be at the same height. For categories, Mini, Sub-Youth and Youth up until 11 years.
2. The rein must pass directly from the bit ring between the pinkie and ring fingers, with the thumb placed on top. It is important that the ring finger keeps the sides of the rein close to the palm at the knuckles and that the fingers close firmly, but without tension. The excess rein will always be kept on the right side. The hands will maintain a simple posture, with the knuckles perpendicular to the saddle, indicating softness, adaptability, and control. The height at which the hands are held over the horse's withers is determined by how each horse carries its head. However, an excessively high or low position is incorrect. Every effort should be made to maintain a straight line from the elbow to the forearm, from the forearm to the hand, and from the hand to the rein to the bit ring. The hands and wrists should remain flexible and not too far apart. This applies to the Junior category, aged 12 to 14 years and older.

G. Position of legs and feet:

The leg should fall naturally. The lower part of the leg should be under the body of the rider and not extended out forward or backward; the knee should go in a straight line towards the stirrup. If it is not, it should be penalized. The feet should be kept parallel to the horse, heels slightly lower (about 1 inch) (Refer to Figure 2). The sole of the foot should rest directly on the stirrup exerting even pressure on it. Foot position must be natural, not forced or extremely inward or outward. The position of the feet should be as parallel as possible to the horse's body without appearing to be forced inwards and / or open. It must have a natural look. Wide or forced inward feet should be penalized. The knees should be as close to the horse's body as possible, and the sole of the feet should be in total contact with the stirrup.

H. To consider and appreciate the riding skills, such as:

1. Sense of rhythm
2. Calibration of rhythm and cadence

3. Smooth hands on the reins
4. Disguising of the limitations of the horse
5. Highlighting the virtues of the horse
6. Aids; that are subtle but effective
7. Mastery, confidence, and concentration in riding
8. Ease and naturalness in posture
9. Grace and elegance

I. Paralympic Category with Physical Limitations:

The posture and position of the competitors in the Paralympic Category for Physical Limitations should be evaluated based on the body parts not affected by their physical limitations and an appreciation must be given for the competitor's effort to maintain their position which allows them to handle the horse given their limitations.

Article 2.- Once the competition begins, the participants and their horses will remain under the sole authority of the judges. This means that no competitor or his horse may leave the arena without the permission of the judges. To safeguard the rights of the public it must be explained personally or through the announcer the reason for a withdrawal of a competitor or why he is excluded from the competition.

Article 3.- When starting the competition, the Show Director will organize the entrance of the competitors, one by one, to facilitate the introduction of the rider and horse by the announcer, according to the data recorded in the respective entries. This information must be repeated each time a participant enters the individual test of the figure 8 and after the placements, for those who have been classified. Participants will enter by age, with the oldest entering first, and finalizing with the youngest competitor.

Article 4.- Any participant who rides a horse performing two gaits must present all tests in the two gaits, no doing so will be penalized.

Article 5.- The individual test starts from the figure 8 and ends after sounding board.

Article 6.- Optional Tests: Should be sorted in a random order at start and should be requested by a majority of the judges (2 out of 3 or 3 out of 5), if this is not the case it is understood that the judges have reached a verdict. The test will be carried out by competitors who are in equal conditions in the following manner:

They will be executed one by one, independently, according to the draw of the first three tests (A, B, or C) if necessary, upon request from the majority of the judges. After completing the first three tests, if deemed necessary by the request of 2 out of 3 judges or 3 out of 5 judges, the next test, changing the horse, will be carried out. (Only applicable to categories 12 to 14 years and older.)

- A. Reverse (4 changes).
- B. Parallel-This test is only done to compare 2 competitors, does not apply for comparisons between 3 or more competitors. If 3 or more need comparison, this test will be discarded and will continue with the next sorted test.
- C. Circle work, 3 circles in one direction, and 3 circles in the other direction.
- D. Change of horse once the previous 3 tests are completed.

If upon completion of the previous four tests the participants remain in a tie, the determining factor to break the tie will be the results from the written test. From 2026 onwards, this last test will be an optional test alike to the previous three, as established in Chapter VII, for categories 12-14 years upwards.

Paragraph: These tests have no time limit. Judges will exercise this discretion as long as they observe a reasonable amount of time.

Article 7.- For elaboration of the verdicts, the Judges will take the following aspects into consideration:

- A. Appearance and harmony of the horse and rider.
- B. Skill and ability in presentation of the horse.
- C. Mastery, security, and handling of the reins.
- D. Concentration and seriousness.
- E. Proper posture.
- F. Completion of the individual tests in their correct order and sequence.
- G. Sportsmanship and courtesy in the arena.
- H. Decision and courage.
- I. Sense and awareness of the gait

Article 8.- The judges, in their placements, will consider the following penalization points that may cause loss of score to the competitors:

- A. Distraction, negligence, and disregard for the Judges' instructions.

- B. Obvious rough handling of the horse. (Excessive kicking, pulling on the reins, acts of cruelty towards the horse).
- C. Inadequate back position (leaning forwards or backwards).
- D. Inadequate hand position (open, unstable, too high or too low).
- E. Inadequate foot position (open, too far forward, too far back, too deep in the stirrup) and uneven support in the stirrup.
- F. Rising out of the saddle while the horse is in motion.
- G. Making incorrect turns during the reverse or the circle test.
- H. Lack of stability in the head or the improper position of it.
- I. Excessive use of aids (excessive kicking or exaggerated use of reins). The Youth Riders must maintain the gait of their horse.
- J. The fact that the rider has not maintained the horse in its gait.
- K. Performing the test incorrectly, whether the individual test or optional tests.
- L. Failure to properly change hands in those tests where the horse performs turns or closed circles and the lack of naturalness in posture. Only for the circle work test.
- M. Not using the necessary aids for the horse. It is acceptable to “kiss or cluck” at the horse but not in an excessive manner.
- N. Lack of sportsmanship and courtesy in the arena.
- O. Uneven stirrups (one longer than the other) except in the Mini category. The correct way to measure the length of the stirrup leathers are from the base of the saddle, where the stirrup leathers are placed, to the base of the stirrups.
- P. The loss of one or both stirrups.
- Q. Failure to maintain the required position of each part of the body as defined by this Chapter VI, Article 1, Section A, B, C, D,E,F, and G.
- R. Failure to perform the tests in both gaits if on a two-gaited horse.
- S. If the horse’s back legs leave the sounding board at the same time.

Article 9.- Will be grounds for disqualification:

- A. The total loss of control of the horse. Exceptions are made for those reasons stated in Article 10.
- B. An act of ill will towards another competitor.
- C. To disobey a judge’s order.
- D. To cause delay in the competition without justification.

- E. Failure to address the Judges properly.
- F. Acts of cruelty towards the horse.
- G. Turning around on the sounding board.
- H. Completing more than one circle around the figure 8 posts will be a disqualifying fault in the categories nine (9) and up. This does not apply to the Mini and Sub Youth categories.
- I. In the categories of 12 years and up, knocking down two (2) or more cones in the serpentine, or 1 (one) post of the figure 8 will be considered a disqualifying fault.

Article 10.- For any horse that refuses or displays disobedient behavior due to unruliness, after its rider makes several attempts and the horse does not respond, the judges must decide, through the Show Director, to allow for a change of the horse. The replacement horse must be brought from the horse bank and not chosen by the participant. In this case, the participant will have only one opportunity to change the horse. There should be at least three (3) substitute horses in the bank. If the new horse presents a disabling health condition, and solely for that reason, another horse change may be allowed.

If a horse displays unruliness in a local riding competition (non-World event) where there is no horse bank, the judge(s), with the technical director as a witness and the trainer or parent present, will ask the rider if they want to continue in the competition. If the answer is affirmative and authorized by the parent or guardian, the rider will have 10 minutes by the clock to find a new horse. If the rider has not entered the arena after that time, they must be withdrawn from the competition. If the rider's response is negative, they will be withdrawn from the competition. In any case, the final decision rests with the judge(s)

Paragraph: In the Mini, Sub Youth, and Paralympic categories, the grounds for disqualification set forth in Article 9 will not apply, since these categories are exempt from disqualification. Similarly, the Mini and Paralympic category will only do the change of direction/reverse as an optional difficulty test if necessary.

CHAPTER VII – INDIVIDUAL TESTS AND OPTIONAL TESTS

Article 1.- For the individual assessment of each competitor, the judges will require the performance of several mandatory tests and other optional tests:

INDIVIDUAL TEST: The mandatory tests will be done in a consecutive and continuous manner in the following order:

A. Written Test:

All riders who compete in the 12 years and up categories will take a written test on the contents of this Rulebook. This test will be organized by the Technical Director, designated by the Organizing Committee and will be completed prior to the start of the Competition. In case of a tie, the results of the written test will break the tie.

B. Group Ride:

Participants will start their course to the right, from oldest to youngest, staying at all times on the periphery of the arena using the rail as a guide. The rail should be free of any obstacles, including judges and technical personnel. Before starting, and considering the number of participants, at the discretion of the Technical Director, they will complete one or two laps, and then a change of direction (reverse) will be ordered clockwise for evaluation.

For horses performing two gaits such as, Colombian Trote and Galope and Colombian Trocha and Galope, the horse must transition to the other gait upon the reverse. The change of direction will be made towards the center of the arena using an area not exceeding three (3) meters and returning to the rail at the same place where it started the change of direction.

The competitor must maintain the horse in its gait at all times. For Galope horses, transitioning into this gait in the reverse, the horse must use the correct lead, that being, use the correct lead for the turn the horse is performing and hold that lead. For the reverse, the transition into the Galope can be done at any point during the turn. The ability and concentration of the participant in handling the horse, as well as their skill in calibrating the horse and maintaining the gait, will be appreciated both in straight-line trajectories and turns. Subsequently, the Show Director will hold the horses in the holding area waiting for their turn for the individual test. The twelve (12) years and up categories will follow the holding area procedure established in the Annex. Refer to Diagram 3 for the visual map of the individual test.

No matter the direction from which the competitors enter, they will always enter between sounding board and the figure “8” (eight) ; and, when they finish the figure “8” (eight) and backing up, they will exit between the two poles heading towards the serpentine. At the end of the serpentine, they will have to go to the rail in a straight line and from there toward the sounding board in both directions. The failure to do so and in the sequence described will be penalized according to the scoring table described in these rules. The riders must maintain their horse in their correct gait.

All competitors must make their horse execute the number (eight) “8” shape around two poles provided for this purpose. The posts will be of a solid material, bright yellow, cylindrical in shape and about 10 centimeters in diameter, with a height of about two meters each and at a distance of three (3) meters between them. Human poles should not be used.

Figura del 8 / Figure 8

The use of bushes, barrels or other decorative elements as posts for testing the figure “8”, is prohibited. The same prohibition applies with respect to the placement of ornamental elements elsewhere in the arena that hinder the view of the horses and competitors. To circle on one of the posts more than once in the figure “8” to flaunt the good rein of the horse is a fault to be penalized and competitors 9 years and up will be disqualified from the competition because it can give the impression of an advantage to the horse or competitor that performed it.

In this test, the competitors must make their horse perform two (2) figure 8 around the posts. The midpoint between the posts marks the beginning and end of each figure 8. The test starts by entering between the first pole and the sounding board and then crossing the midpoint to the second pole towards the rail, then making the turn either to the right or to left depending on where is the holding area for a total of one figure “8” shape. Then pass from one post to another in a straight line, to start and complete a final figure “8” shape, stopping the horse between the two (2) posts (See Figure 4).

The competitor that enters the figure “8” incorrectly will be penalized. Doing less than two figure “8” shapes, or more than two figure “8” shapes will be penalized. For horses performing two airs or gaits, the participants will make one figure “8” shape in the “Trote” or “Trocha” and the last shape in the Galope, the competitor may start the Galope at any point during the turn.

In this test, the judges evaluate the softness of hands on the reins, the use of aids in turns, balancing of the body, and sense of control to try to maintain his horse in the correct gait. Points will be deducted for allowing the horse to open or veer off track in turns, for using the reins with the hands separated (wider than the width of the shanks of the bit) except in categories below 12 years and / or using a leading rein of the opposite hand on the neck, and not maintaining gait of the horse, or applying exaggerated aids to the horse in the forms of kicking, use of reins etc.

D. Backing up

Each competitor in the individual test, after executing the figure “8” test and having halted his/her horse between the two poles, shall back up their horse a minimum of four (4) and a maximum of six (6) steps. The judges will evaluate the smoothness of the halt, the ability of the rider to stay in the saddle and maintain a balanced and relaxed seat, the manner in which the rider guides the horse backwards with subtle commands, in a straight line and in diagonal steps. The rider must halt the horse upon completion, and guide the horse forwards in a gentle, focused and determined manner. This is accomplished with use of correct aids and balance by the rider.

Diagrama 5: Cejada

E. Serpentine:

Each competitor after the backing up test shall perform the serpentine test in the area designated by the Show Director. This test is done to determine the ability to maintain the gait and the aids the competitor uses with his body so that the horse in its turns keeps the rhythm, cadence and flexibility required. When participating on a Galope horse, the test will be conducted in both gaits. This serpentine test consists of two progression methods: half circles and straight segments. Alternating half circles with straight lines between the two. During the half-circle turns, the horse's body should be bent towards the center of the circle. In performing the test, the horse should not move in diagonal lines, zig zag or sinusoidal configuration (Refer to Figure). Galope horses should perform this test in the Trote or Trocha in one direction, and return in the Galope in the other direction. Each half circle will be marked by visual objects to ensure that they are proceeding the correct way. It is suggested that the obstacles be bright yellow.

Serpentina / Serpentine

Diagrama 6: Mapa de la Serpentina

F. Sounding Board:

Once the Serpentine test is over, the competitor must make his horse pass over the sounding board in both directions, in a straight line. Every Galope horse must perform the sounding board in one gait, and return in the other gait. The board should be placed at the same level of the terrain of the arena. If this is not possible, then it must have an access ramp with a conservative slant. The sounding board must be of solid and compact material, good quality wooden boards or plywood. It must have a length of fifteen (15) to twenty (20) meters and two (2) meters wide. Competitors may not turn the horse on the board or allow the horse to step off prior to finishing. They must go over the full sounding board, come off completely and return the opposite direction. Failure to do so, will be grounds for deduction of points by the judges. The turn when coming off the sounding board to return for the second pass can be made in any direction. The judges will observe in this test the sense for the rider's ability to calibrate and maintain the horse in gait, as well as the ability to keep the horse in a straight track over the sounding board. Lack of conservation of gait, allowing the horse to move sideways over the sounding board or stepping the rear legs off the sounding board will be penalized. Turning on the sounding board is an automatic disqualification except the Mini and Sub Youth categories in which doing so will be penalized.

Diagrama 7: Mapa de la Tabla de Resonancia

G. Optional Tests

Should be sorted in a random order at start and should be requested by a majority of the judges (2 out of 3 or 3 out of 5), if this is not the case it is understood that the judges have reached a verdict. The test will be carried out by competitors who are in equal conditions in the following manner:

They will be executed one by one, independently, according to the draw, if necessary, as requested by the majority of the judges.

1. Reverse (change of direction) 4 reverses
2. Parallel-This test is only done to compare 2 competitors, does not apply for comparisons between 3 or more competitors. If 3 or more need comparison, this test will be discarded and will continue with the next sorted test.
3. Circle work, 3 circles in one directions, and 3 circles in the other direction.
4. Change of horse (only for the 12-14 years category upward) once the previous 3 tests are completed and the tie-break is still necessary.

If upon completion of the previous four tests the participants remain in a tie, the determining factor to break the tie will be the results from the written test.

For the Mini and Paralympic categories, only the reverse (change of direction) will be used as an optional test, as well as the Sub-Youth and Youth categories, where the optional tests will be done in the established order in the Rulebook except for the change of horse.

The optional test for the categories 12 years and up will be sorted by the Technical Director and Show Director prior to the start of each event.

Starting from the 2026 Youth World Championships.

The technical director will draw the four (4) tests before the start of each category, and they must be requested by the majority of the judges (2 out of 3 or 3 out of 5). If this does not happen, it will be understood that the judges have made a decision. Those participants in equal conditions will execute them under the following procedure:

They will be executed one by one, independently, according to the draw of the four optional difficulty tests (A, B, C, or D).

- A. Reverse (change of direction) 4 reverses
- B. Parallel- This test is only done to compare 2 competitors, does not apply for comparisons between 3 or more competitors. If 3 or more need comparison, this test will be discarded and will continue with the next sorted test.
- C. Circle work, 3 circles in one directions, and 3 circles in the other direction
- D. Change of horse (12-14 years category upward)

1. Reverse or change of direction: (4 times)

This is an optional test that involves reverses by turning in the opposite direction to the fence, then returning in the direction from which it started. All competitors whose horses do not maintain their gait will be penalized, as well as if he performs this test with the reins with open hands, except for those under 12 years of age For Galope horses, transitioning into this gait in the reverse, the horse must use the correct lead, that being use the correct lead for the turn the horse is performing and hold that lead. For the reverse, the transition into the Galope can be done at any point during the turn. The ability and concentration of the participant in handling the horse, as well as their skill in calibrating the horse and maintaining the gait, will be appreciated both in straight-line trajectories and turns.

Diagrama 8: Mapa de la Prueba de Cambio de Dirección

2. Parallel test:

This test is only done to compare 2 competitors, does not apply for comparisons between 3 or more competitors. If 3 or more need comparison, this test will be discarded and will continue with the next sorted test. The test will be performed in the following manner: Two competitors will be placed side by side, and upon the sign from the Show Director, the competitors will start movement and head to the opposite side staying on the same track from where they started. Finishing the first part of the test they will halt and switch tracks, awaiting the sign from the Show Director to resume and complete the second part of the test. Competitors on horses with two gaits should complete the first part of the test in the Trote or Trocha, and the second part in the Galope. Before starting in the Galope, the competitor may start in the Trote or Trocha and then transition into the Galope. The evaluation includes the position of the back, which should have its center of balance in the midline, natural positioning of the shoulders and elbows, as well as the position of the legs and feet. The participant's concentration and skill in handling the horse to achieve straight-line movement and appropriate collection and movement based on the horse's abilities and conditions are also evaluated.

3. Circle Work: 3 and 3

The rider must make the horse to perform (3) three circles of at least three (3) meters in one direction followed by three circles of the same size in the opposite direction. The turn must be done towards the post. The horse should keep its energy, stamina, agility, gait, cadence in response to the rider's aids at all times. The judges will reward the aids that the rider can provide to keep his horse as energetic and attentive as possible. The rider should also try to manifest a good degree of agility, flexibility and maintain consistency of the gait and intensity in cadence during the turns. The judges will observe the subtle and effective aids and will penalize the use of excessive and obvious aids that are against the standards of equitation or demonstrate cruelty towards the horse. Horses with two gaits will complete three circles in Trote or Trocha, and transition to three circles in the Galope.

4. Change of horse:

This test can only be requested for competitors 12 years and up. The Show Director will give the sign to start, each competitor is allowed one lap to familiarize with the horse, being understood as a half lap and returning the half lap back to the starting point on the new mount without this being counted towards their assessment before completing the final test of a double pass on the sounding board.

Competitors must make the change through the procedure described as follows:

Procedure:

1. Dismount according to the norm established by this Rulebook
2. Untie the lead line
3. Tie the reins
4. Hand over the horse to the designated individual for the change of the saddle (this is to be done by the competitor)
5. Upon receiving the horse, saddling up and fastening the lead line
6. Untie the reins

It is prohibited to touch or change the headgear of the horse and doing so is cause for disqualification.

Before mounting, the competitor must inspect and adjust, if necessary, the girth. In the case that two or more horses have significant difference in phenotype, it is allowed to adjust the stirrups, it is possible to mount and dismount.

The Show Director will allow all participants once they are completely done, to half lap in each direction to familiarize themselves with their horse. If the horse has two gaits, it will be half lap in one gait and the other half in the other gait. This is done without being evaluated by the Judges before the final test is performed. The Show Director will indicate, when all participants are ready, the moment the judgements will continue, where the test will be a double pass on the sounding board. If on a horse with two gaits, the first pass will be in one gait and the second gait will be performed on the second pass. In the case where this test is the first sorted test, and the test is complete the competitors will return to their first horse. When there are three or more participants, the change will be made in ascending order. In other words, number (1) will move to number (2), number (2) will move to number (3), and number (3) will move to number (1), as appropriate for the number of participants within the test, following the same sequence.

Dismount and mount:

To dismount, the rider can slide down off the saddle or use the stirrup. The size of the competitor must be taken into account. Before mounting, the competitor must inspect and adjust, if necessary, the girth. He has to pick up the reins in the left hand using little pressure. Stand diagonally, beside the horse and looking at the horse's withers. Place his left hand on the horse's withers, hold the mane or front pommel, turn the stirrup towards him using the right hand and place his left foot in the stirrup. Then, he places the right hand on the opposite side of the saddle or pommel and rises gently towards the saddle straightening both knees without touching the rump of the horse with the foot. Passing the right leg over the saddle sitting gently and placing the right foot in the stirrup without looking. For this test the judges must take into consideration the training and docility of the horse, in order to not penalize the rider whose horse exhibits bad behavior during the process. During the horse change, the rider must use their own saddle.

Paragraph 1: In the change of the horse, the use of a groom will be allowed with the sole function of holding the horse by the lead line as a safety measure.

Paragraph 2: The Mini, Sub-Youth, and Youth rider below 12 years of age, who are allowed to hold the rein in each hand may not be penalized for doing so in the figure 8 test or the reverses.

Scoring Table for judging Youth Rider competitions:

Judging should be based forty percent 40% on the Equitation Posture and sixty percent (60%) on the riding skills and handling of the horse.

Paragraph:

- The individual test starts at the figure “8”, and ends after the sounding board. The individual test must be completed in its entirety.

- Not following the correct orders of the tests will result in the competitor to be penalized with up to fifteen (15) points in the concentration area.

CHAPTER VIII – JUDGING SYSTEM F1 - F2

BASIS OF THE SYSTEM

1. The judgment should be carried out by three (3) or five (5) judges, who must be certified by CONFEPASO and be active and current. A total of 5 judges will be used in the World Championships and between 3 to 5 judges for international and other events. For the Paralympic categories, the judge should be one who is certified as an equestrian rehabilitator by CONFEPASO.
2. The parameters for the development of the judges' verdicts are set out in Article 7 of the Chapter VI of the Youth Equitation Rulebook. Judges should have ample knowledge and mastery of Equitation.
3. Judges should act separately and individually, except during the warming up and in a tie-break situation.

PROCEDURE TO FOLLOW IN THE ARENA

1. ANALYSIS STAGE:

In this stage, competitors will enter the arena and commence the group ride according to the directions set out in Chapter VII, Article 1- B of this Rulebook. During this stage, the judges may stand together. Then, the horses will be held in an area determined by the Show Director for participants to begin the tests as follows: Figure “8”, backing up, serpentine and sounding board.

2. CLASSIFICATION STAGE (F1):

After the warming up stage, the judges shall be separated for the individual judgment and may only return to dialogue in the event a draw arises between two, three or more participants. During this stage the judges will observe how the competitors perform their individual tests to select a maximum of eight (8) competitors who in their opinion stand out in the group. They will do this by writing the competitors' number on the F1 format, which will be handed to the Show Director or Computing Desk. Once the computing desk has the results from the F1 form, the qualified competitors will be announced by the announcer and they will be placed in a designated area by the Show Director. The remaining competitors will be removed from the arena, thanking them for their participation.

3. COMPARISON STAGE AND FINAL RESULT:

During this stage, competitor comparisons will only be made if requested by two judges when three judges are judging or if requested by three judges when five are judging. If all judges already have a final decision, the F2 form will be completed. According to the majority judgment (2 out of 3 or 3 out of 5), those in equal conditions will be called to perform the optional tests established in Chapter 6, Article 6 of this Rulebook.

When a participant has committed one of the disqualifying fault outlined in these regulations, the judge is obliged to inform the Show Director, who will notify the technical table. Subsequently, the announcer will make the announcement to withdraw the participant from the competition, explaining the reason for the withdrawal.

4. CALCULATION METHOD:

Once the judges submit the F2 form (final result), where they will note the position occupied by each competitor in front of the assigned number, the calculation will be carried out. If a judge has not considered a competitor, their position will be recorded as six (6) or seven (7) if six positions are awarded. To perform the calculation, the system will take the following considerations in order of priority:

- A. The primary consideration will be the total sum, with the lowest number being the first place, and so on in ascending order. In this case, an exception is made for the situation where a participant achieves the first place on two or three judges' cards; in this circumstance, they will always receive the first place, regardless of the total sum.
- B. Following the sum, consensus in the F2 forms will be taken into consideration. In other words, in case of equal sums, the consensus in the F2 forms will determine the position.
- C. In cases of equal sums where there is no consensus in the F2 forms, the tied participants will return to the arena for a comparison.
- D. Once the semifinalists have been selected, the computing table will record, in ascending order, the numbers of the selected participants on the computation sheet.
- E. Subsequently, the total points obtained by each participant will be calculated, and they will be ranked based on the best average position. The following explanatory notes will also be considered.

EXPLANATORY NOTES:

The following explanatory notes will be taken into account:

- 1. When a participant has secured the first place on two cards with 3 judges or on three cards with 5 judges, they will ultimately occupy the first position regardless of the opinions of the other judges. (Refer to the following example):

5. When the judges do not declare the fifth position as vacant on their cards but each of them selects a different participant for the fifth place, the tiebreaker rule of seventeen (17) will be applied. Participants will return to the arena for a tiebreaker to determine the fifth position.

COMMUNICATION OF THE RESULTS

The judge responsible for explaining the competition will be the one who has most closely aligned with the final result. If several judges have a similar outcome, it will be chosen arbitrarily.

F1 FORM, F2 FORM, COMPUTATION SHEET, AND RESULTS SHEET

The F1 and F2 forms, as well as the Computation and Results Sheets, will be distributed by CONFEPASO to each affiliated Federation or Association within fifteen (15) days following the conclusion of the competition. These documents must be sent to the president of the Foundation to be kept in their archives in case of a potential claim. The information provided in the F1 and F2 forms, as well as the Computation and Results Sheets, is strictly confidential; it cannot be disclosed or shown to anyone who is not part of the technical table during the competition. Any incident in this regard will be severely penalized by the technical director of the exhibition. The computation cards will be available to delegates once they request them in writing to the Board of Directors of CONFEPASO, which is obligated to respond within the next thirty (30) days from the date of receiving the request.

Note: The presence of coaches, parents, participants, or individuals other than those designated and identified by the organization is strictly prohibited at the computation table. Violation of this article will automatically lead to disqualification for the participants involved at that moment.

CHAPTER IX – HORSE BANK FOR WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

- A. All horses participating in the horse bank must remain in the horse bank for a minimum of seven (7) days, except for those that have already finished their participation. This excludes the horses belonging to the horse bank of the host country, which may be authorized to leave. In such cases, the horse cannot return to the horse bank or the event. The host country designated by CONFEPASO must have a minimum of 10% of the amount of horses based on the amount of registered participants for use of participants who do not have a horse available. These horses will be designated through a lottery to the riders of the different countries who do not have a horse. Each delegation can assign the horses to those riders who do not have a horse in the different participating categories. For example, the horses assigned can be randomly assigned to those riders who do not have a horse at their disposition for use on the Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday at their discretion. Each delegation must keep in mind that each horse can only be used a maximum of twice a day, not consecutively and a total of 4 times during the entire World Championship event. The use of the horses in the Mini categories and the Paralympic categories will not affect the total number of times the horse can be used. There should be a minimum of 3 horses available for replacement.
- B. The participating horses will enter the bank on day 1 and may not leave until the 8th day with exception for the aforementioned case. Horses must be fully identified with microchip. The entrance of any horse to the arena will not be allowed either during practice or during competition if the bridle does not meet the requirements established in the Unified Judgement System established by Confepaso.
- C. The practice time for the Youth World Rider Championship will be as follows.
1. Delegations of fifteen (15) or less riders will have thirty (30) minutes of practice
 2. Delegations of fifty (50) riders or less will have one (1) hour of practice.
 3. Delegations of fifty (50) riders or more will have one (1) hour and thirty (30) minutes of practice. Maximum time per rider is 10 minutes.
- D. The horse bank will be governed by a Committee appointed by CONFEPASO and an official staff member of the Host Association and will be the only responsible for the handing over of the horses.
- E. Each category will have a maximum of six (6) participants per country. As of the 2026 World Championship, each category will have a maximum of five (5) participants.
- F. The horses will compete a maximum of four (4) times during the World Championships, with a maximum of two (2) times per day, not consecutive. The use of the horses in the Mini categories and the Paralympic categories will not affect the total number of times the horse can be used and can be consecutive.

- G. The participating horses may only be excused by the assigned Veterinarian. It is important, to highlight that all excused horse cannot be assigned to any other participant; therefore any excused horse or a horse that has finished its participation and leaves the horse bank may not return or participate in the rest of the World Championship event.
- H. If a participating country requests a different horse than the one awarded by the lottery, the request must be evaluated by the technical committee appointed by CONFEPASO. If the request is accepted, the participating country will have a new raffle for the award of a new horse among those available.

NOTE:

The acceptance or denial of the request for a horse change is at the exclusive discretion of the Technical Committee appointed by CONFEPASO. Each country will have only one opportunity for a horse change

- I. Participating countries will have the horses assigned to their delegation based on the needs among the participants. Delegations must keep in mind that horses will compete a maximum of four (4) times during the World Championship, with a maximum of two (2) times per day, non-consecutively.

HORSE STABLE RULES

- A. The horses participating will enter the horse bank on day 1 and leave on day 8, unless they have been excused or have finished their participation.
- B. The only ones able to enter the area of the Horse Stable to collect the horses of their riders are the properly identified owners and trainers and Technical Staff from the different countries.
- C. Only the horse trainer is allowed to ride the horse outside of the practice times.
- D. In the case where the competitor is also the trainer, the training must be done in the assigned practice time slot for that country.
- E. The horse bank will be managed by a committee appointed by CONFEPASO and the official personnel of the Association. All participating horses will be entered into the designated database or program for continuous monitoring of horse movements..
- F. The bit should remain available for the practices and should meet the requirements for the horse age as set forth in the CONFEPASO Rulebook.
- G. To expedite the training process, the organization will provide each delegation with a list of horses assigned to their participants, including the stall number and the owner's name.
- H. Each horse in the horse bank will have its stall identified with a card that includes the following information: horse's name, stall number, registration number, microchip, color, and the responsible person. After the draw, the names of the participants to whom each horse was assigned will be added.

- I. Training outside the established schedules for each delegation is strictly prohibited. Violation of this rule will compel the organization to immediately eliminate the participant from the world competition for violating the right to equal opportunity for all competitors. Only trainers are authorized to train the horses..
- J. It is strictly forbidden to change the horses assigned to each competitor without prior authorization from the organization and without a justified reason, which must be verified by the Horse Bank Committee. Violation of this rule will result in automatic elimination of the competitor and a penalty for the corresponding delegation, deducting ten points from the overall score. It is the duty of the leadership of each delegation to ensure the ethics and fair play of their team members. Internal sanctions are the responsibility of the corresponding delegation, but it is suggested that they be sufficiently severe to prevent future violations or harm the reputation of their country. They must be disclosed to CONFEPASO, which, in turn, should impose exemplary sanctions on the delegation that violates the rule..
- K. Upon the arrival of the competitors at the warm-up area, the horses from the horse bank must be presented with a microchip number to verify their identity. This measure aims to prevent violations of the regulations through impersonation. Any horse that cannot be properly identified will not be allowed to compete. In the first instance, the evaluation committee will ensure that all horses in the horse bank have their respective documentation. The competitor is responsible for verifying with the owner that the assigned horse has the corresponding documentation. Presenting oneself in the warm-up area without proper identification does not entitle the rider to a horse change and will automatically forfeit their right to compete.
- L. It is strictly prohibited to address or assault, with insults or offensive language, the personnel responsible for the organization or any member of the technical committee. If the offender is the representative of a participant, their coach, or delegate, the competitor must be immediately removed from the competition and will lose any titles obtained in the current competition. The aggressor will be automatically sanctioned and removed from their position, losing the right to be part of the delegation. The delegation to which they belong will lose ten (10) points from the overall score of their country. Additionally, a formal complaint will be lodged with CONFEPASO, which will extend the sanction according to the disciplinary code.

CHAPTER X – THE JUDGES (CURRENT CERTIFICATION)

Article 2.- To explain their decisions, the judges must highlight the merits of the classified competitors. The explanation should be constructive and didactic detailing the reasons for each placement. In those cases where on Judge does not speak the language of the host country, a translator will be assigned to assist during the verdicts.

Article 3.- The judges have complete autonomy to declare the competition void, as well as the final placements, when the quality of the competitors is not satisfactory.

In competitions of this type for youth riders, the judges must be certified by CONFEPASO for such a role. CONFEPASO should organize a workshop exclusively for equestrianism, where concepts will be unified based on the riding rules. Only those who are interested and certified will be eligible to judge these competitions.

To act as a Head Judge in the World Championships or International Competitions held by CONFEPASO and its Federations and/or Associations, the individual possessing such an ID card must be registered with the Technical Department of the Foundation. This registration is a requirement for issuing an identification card, which, duly signed by the president, is the only credential for judging in the competitions. Scores obtained in International Competitions of Youth Riders judged by individuals who do not meet this requirement will not be valid for any purpose in favor of the Youth Riders registered in the current international system.

Paragraph 1: Periodic Verification of Judges' Knowledge and Technical Update: In the same way that regular knowledge check-ups and updates are indispensable in various activities, the Technical Department of CONFEPASO will conduct periodic assessments for Judges with the frequency required by the modernization and progress of the activity. For this purpose, written and practical exams on regulatory knowledge and updates will be administered to Judges registered to judge Youth Rider competitions in different categories. This procedure will be subject to specific regulations aimed at periodically verifying the quality of Judges, with the consequent cancellation of registration in the Technical Department of the Federation and/or Association for those who prove not to be a guarantee for the progress of the sport of Youth Riders and the maintenance of efficient technical standards.

Paragraph 2: The Judge's ID card for Youth Rider competitions may be canceled due to the Judge's misconduct or by resolution issued by the Board of Directors of the Foundation, Federation, and/or Association, following the same procedures as for its issuance

CHAPTER XII – DISCIPLINARY SANCTIONS

Article 1.- Competency to impose sanctions

The Disciplinary Committee of the CONFEPASO INTERNATIONAL FOUNDATION is the competent body to impose sanctions on any person or legal entity participating in any exhibition and/or social activity organized or endorsed by CONFEPASO.

As the highest authority in all its exhibitions or social activities, CONFEPASO INTERNATIONAL has the legal and moral obligation to all breeders, exhibitors, riders, grooms, stablemen, and enthusiasts of the Paso Fino horse worldwide, to ensure that its regulations and statutes are fully complied with. Therefore, it also has to ensure that in all its exhibitions and/or social activities, respect and safety are provided to judges, technical and non-technical staff.

Article 2.- Causes for Disciplinary Sanctions

The Disciplinary Committee of CONFEPASO International Foundation can sanction any person or entity within the scope of its authority for the following reasons:

- A. For carrying out acts aimed at harming the normal development of the exhibition or any social activity organized by CONFEPASO INTERNATIONAL and its affiliates. For verbally or physically offending, directly or indirectly, any authority of the exhibition and/or social activity, during or after it, within or outside the arena, as a result of any decision, argumentation, or interpretation expressed by the respective official or any of their colleagues..
- B. For failing to comply with any of the obligations imposed by these regulations.
- C. For engaging in acts contrary to those established in these regulations and to the norms of morality and good manners.

Article 3.- Compliance with sanctions.

All sanctions imposed by the Disciplinary Committee must be strictly adhered to in different countries and in all Federations and/or Associations that are members of CONFEPASO. Failure to comply with the above by Federations and/or Associations may lead to their separation from CONFEPASO. No Federation and/or Association representing different countries before CONFEPASO can lift or modify any sanction imposed by CONFEPASO and its affiliates in any way, whether in international or national events. Such matters fall under the complete competence and jurisdiction of CONFEPASO and its affiliates.

Article 4.- Immediate sanctions.

CONFEPASO INTERNACIONAL and its affiliates, through its Board of Directors and/or Disciplinary Committee, may summarily sanction and request the immediate removal from the premises of the coliseum where an exhibition and/or social activity or meeting is taking place, any person, legal entity, or horse that clearly and publicly violates any of the sections of Article 2 of this Chapter, to safeguard the safety and better development of said activity. This summary sanction will be imposed without the need to give a hearing to the person or legal entity, as it is understood that this summary sanction is taken in a state of emergency.

Article 5.- Proceedings.

Taking into considerations the cost as well as logistical difficulties which monthly meetings would cause to discuss any time a sanction is to be imposed, these meetings would take place at least four (4) times a year.

In the event of World Championships, any and all complaints which occurred during a World Championships will be heard at one of the annual meetings. In order to ensure any person or legal entity the right to their defense and due process and to allow evidence to be presented in their favor by themselves or by a legal representative before the final sanction is to be imposed, the following procedure will be observed:

- A. The infraction may be reported by any official of the exhibition and/or social activity, or by any individual and/or legal entity that believes that any of the paragraphs of Article 2 of this Chapter has been violated.
- B. The infraction should be described in detail in a written format and should be signed by the reporting person or entity. Complaints filed by individuals who are not part of the technical committee and/or officials of the event, exhibition, or social activity must submit such a sworn complaint before a notary. This can be reported directly to the CONFEPASO President or any of the delegates or officials. The complainant will have thirty (30) days, starting from the day after the infractions was committed, to present or file his or her complaint. The thirty (30) day window will be verified by the postmark of the mail, or by the receipt signed by the delegate or official of CONFEPASO or by the date of the email to CONFEPASO or its confederates.
- C. In case of national events the proceedings to be followed are those established in the Statutes of the Member Entity.
- D. Once the complaint has been received by the President of CONFEPASO, the President or person who this is assigned to has the responsibility to notify the person or legal entity which is the defendant by certified mail, by fax, email or personally. The notification must include an accurate copy of the complaint and indicate that the defendant has thirty (30) days to answer, if so desired, which starts from the day following that in which the person or legal entity was notified. If the notification was made through use of email, the term will be counted from the day following that on which it was received.
- E. If the accused responds within the time indicated in paragraph C and if desired, they may request a hearing to be personally heard by the disciplinary committee of CONFEPASO at the next Assembly held by this institution, where they can attend alone or accompanied by a legal representative or delegate a third party for these purposes, understanding that none of the delegates of their country can represent them before CONFEPASO.

- F. After the accused has exercised their legitimate right to defense, the disciplinary committee convened for this purpose will decide whether the person and/or legal entity committed the alleged infraction or not, and the corresponding sanction will be imposed. This will be notified to the parties involved and to all Federations and/or Associations of the countries represented in CONFEPASO, so that they can apply it.
- G. If the defendant does not agree with the imposed sanction, the sanctioned person and/or entity can request an appeal to CONFEPASO. This request must be made in the following thirty (30) days, which starts from the day following that in which the person or legal entity was notified of the imposed sanction. The request for appeal will not have an effect to suspend the imposed sanction and thus the imposed sanction will remain in effect. The Disciplinary Committee of CONFEPASO is obligated once the request for appeal is received, to study, discuss and present the issue for vote in the following Assembly. If CONFEPASO reconsiders and nullifies the sanctions imposed it will notify all parties involved, including Federations and/or Associations of the countries represented in CONFEPASO. If the sanction is not nullified, it will only inform the petitioner.

Claims not resolved through mediation, should be resolved through arbitration, which must be in accordance with current Mediation Rules of the American Arbitration Association; unless the parties agree otherwise. Arbitration demands must be filed in writing together with the other party to CONFEPASO and the American Arbitration Association

PROCEDURE FOR THE HOLDING AREA – AGES 12 AND UP WORLD CHAMPIONSHIPS

After finishing the group ride, the competitors will enter the holding area where they may dismount in order to preserve the health of both the competitors and their mounts. One groom per competitor may hold the horse, the girth may be loosened. Competitors must then go to the designated area and remain there; they may sit down. According to numerical order, the first participant must remain mounted along with the next (5) participants. When a participant completes their individual test, the next participant in sequence will mount their horse. There will always be (5) participants mounted in the holding area. When there are (2) participants left to complete their individual tests, all participants must mount their horses; moving or warming up horses is not allowed. Changing tack or bits is not allowed; adjustments to tack and girth can be made before remounting the horse with the authorization of the Technical Director. All participants and their grooms must maintain professional and appropriate conduct at all times, following the instructions of the personnel in charge of the holding area.

GENERAL ASPECTS OF THE HORSE

Any rider, besides knowing how to ride, must have some basic knowledge about the horse. In this section, we present various aspects of the horse, which will be taken into account in the written test the competitors must pass, from the Junior category upward.

1. DESCRIPTION OF THE HORSE

Scientific name: Equus Caballus

Family: Equidae.

Order: Perissodactyla.

Class: Mammal.

Type: Vertebrates.

Herbivore animal of excellent memory, very good hearing and very acute sense of smell. Its voice, the whinny, expresses joy, anger, desire, fear and pain. Its body is comprised of the skeleton, joints, and muscles; and is divided in head, neck, trunk, and extremities.

HEAD

It should be proportioned with the body, preferably small.

NECK

It consists of seven (7) cervical vertebrae located between the head and the trunk. It acts as a balancer, since its volume, form and direction directly affects the balance of the horse.

TRUNK

Its anatomical basis is formed by eighteen (18) dorsal vertebrae, six (6) lumbar vertebrae, and twenty-one (21) coccygeal vertebrae approximately, eighteen (18) pairs of ribs, and the sternum with its respective muscles and organs.

EXTREMITIES

They are the fundamental organs of locomotion. They are formed by the forelimb (both hands) and hind limbs (two legs).

PARTS OF THE HOOF

HEIGHT

It is the measurement (height) taken from the ground to the withers, which is the highest part of the backbone of the horse. The height is measured with a device called composed of a ruler attached to another at a right angle, which slips over the first. To determine the height of the horse, by means of the measuring stick this must be still and on a flat level surface. (see drawing).

MINIMUM HEIGHTS

The following minimum height requirements are established for participation in exhibitions organized under the CONFEPASO regulations, with the exception of the World Championships for Youth Riders, Events for Horses Ridden by their Owners and/or Non-Professional Riders:

PHENOTYPE

It is the set of hereditary characteristics common to a particular species. In the case of the horse, it is composed of: head, neck, chest, abdomen, hindquarters, tail, limbs, height, and color. The weight, dimensions, and volume of the different parts of the body should maintain a close relationship to provide harmony and beauty to the whole and regularity to its functions in order to achieve the ideal phenotype.

2. AGE OF HORSES

Equine chronometry is the study of the age of horses. (Chronos: time. Metron: measure). To determine the age of a horse, we rely on the characteristics exhibited by certain parts of the body, mainly the teeth, allowing us to ascertain the time elapsed from its birth to the moment of examination.

Why is it so important to know the exact age of our horse?

- A. To establish comparative parameters of the relation between size and age during the different stages of development of the horse.

- B. To administer appropriate work corresponding to the age of each horse.
- C. To measure its progress and performance according to age.
- D. To correctly manage the aspects related to hygiene and health, as these vary according to age.
- E. To handle the reproduction aspect.

Teeth are the only organs whose evolution and anatomical changes provide almost exact information about the age of horses, determined by the wear they undergo over the years.

Prior to starting the study of the changes occurring in the teeth through which we can know the age of a horse, we need to know how many teeth a horse has and how they are distributed in the jaw:

- Each jaw of the horse has six (6) incisors, two (2) canines, six (6) deciduous molars, and six (6) permanent molars, making a total of 40 teeth
- Mares, lacking canines or tusks, have only 36 teeth, with some exceptions.
- Based on their arrangement, the incisors have different names: the incisors in front of each jaw are called first, pincers, or centrals; those that follow are called second or intermediates, and the ones at the ends are called third or corners.

Before describing the formulas to determine the age of the horse, we will define a series of data that will be of utmost importance for our study.

Flat surface: It is the chewing surface that comes into contact with one or more teeth of the opposing jaw.

Friction: The crown of the tooth on the flat surface has a conical cavity called a "tintero," which is delimited by an anterior and a posterior edge. The wear of these edges, resulting from the friction exerted while eating, is what we call friction.

Pairing: The moment when each tooth makes contact with the tooth of the opposing jaw

Deciduous Teeth: We will refer to "descarne" as the swelling that occurs in the gum under each deciduous tooth at the moment when the permanent tooth, which will replace it, begins to exert pressure to displace it. The incisors of the first dentition are called deciduous teeth, and those of the second dentition are referred to as permanent. To differentiate them, it is enough to note that deciduous teeth have small grooves on their anterior face and appear separated from the root by a depression called the neck of the tooth, while permanent teeth do not have these characteristics. When a foal is born, it does not have any teeth, and typically, the first four teeth emerge between six (6) and twelve (12) days, although their appearance may be delayed until thirty (30) days.

- Between 30 and 40 days: the second incisors appear.
- Between the 3rd and 10th months: the last incisors appear.
- At 10 months: the milk pinchers are rasped.
- At 12 months: the second incisors are rasped.
- At 18 months: the last incisors are rasped, and the first permanent molars appear.
- At 24 months: the second permanent molars erupt.
- At 27 months: the rasp of the milk pinchers occurs.
- At 30 months: the shedding of the milk pinchers begins
- At 36 months: the milk pinchers are leveled.
- At 40 months: the second incisors are rasped.
- At 42 months: the second incisors are shed.
- At 48 months: the second incisors are leveled.
- At 52 months: the last incisors are rasped, and in males, the canines start to point.
- At 54 months: the last incisors are shed.
- At 60 months: the last incisors are leveled.

NOTE: Up until this moment the horse is considered a colt or filly

- At 72 months: the milk pinchers are rasped.
- At 7 years: the second incisors are rasped, and in the upper last incisors, a point called "Cola de Alondra" appears.
- At 8 years: the wear of the last incisors begins.
- At 9 years: the upper milk pinchers are rasped.

- At 10 years: the upper second incisors are rasped.
- At 11 years: the upper last incisors are rasped.

It is of utmost importance to highlight that the shape of the flat surface of the tooth is elliptical until 4 years, round until 9 years, triangular as it approaches 13 years, and biangular from 18 years onwards. In a young horse, the closed jaw forms a semicircle; as it ages, this semicircle turns into an angle that becomes sharper over the years as the individual gets older.

Appearance of the old horse:

When a horse is old, its head looks sad and lowered, the tissues lose their elasticity, prominent bones become more pronounced, the sockets above the eyes become deep, the lips become wrinkled, and even the color of the skin changes.

Defects in the teeth:

The rules for determining the age of the horses have exceptions: the teeth wears out more quickly in some specimens according to the weather and the food. A horse can have an under bite or overbite.

- A. Underbite: Protrusion of the lower jaw teeth. Allowed to compete in Youth Rider Competitions.
- B. Overbite: When the incisors of the upper jaw surpass those of the lower jaw Allowed to compete in Youth Rider Competitions.

3. THE PASO HORSE DESCRIPTION

The horses that came to the New World in the 15th century are basically the prototype of the Paso Horse; although they distinguish and characterize themselves by the way they walk, its morphology is the same. The morphology or phenotype of the Paso Horse is characterized by the symmetry of its parts. It is slender, harmonious and well proportioned.

Head: It must be proportional to the size of the body; a broad forehead, strong and separate jaws. The eyes should be large, dark, spaced apart, expressive, and attentive, without showing white areas on their edges. The profile should be straight, the ears small, narrow, well-set, alert, wide at their base, and pointed at their ends. The lips should be firm, of the same length, with large and dilatable nostrils.

Neck: It must be of medium size, muscular but flexible, arched at its upper part, and straight at its lower part, full and well-joined at its two ends, and robust. The mane should be abundant, whether it is straight or curly, with fine and silky hair.

Body: In its anterior third, it must have the withers high, long, and muscular. It should be at the same height from the ground as the croup. The chest should be muscular, long, deep, and wide, with moderately long, wide, muscular, and harmonious shoulders. In its middle third, the back should be short, solid, wide, and straight, with the top line proportionally shorter than the bottom line. In its upper third, the croup should be straight, strong, and wide. The buttock full, round, and muscular, slightly inclined from the horizontal line, with strong hocks. The tail should be in a moderately high position, bushy, long, with fine and abundant hair, horizontally set, forming a kind of arc when the animal is in motion

Extremities: The legs should be long, moderately muscular, with perfect alignment. The knees should be wide, straight, with free action, covered by fine skin and free of any injury. The hocks should be straight, although a small union or closeness between them is accepted. The cannons should be moderately short, slender, clean, with strong and separated tendons. The fetlocks should be rounded, wide, and perfectly directed. The pastern should have a backward slope of approximately 45 degrees, and the hooves should be proportional to the body, smooth, and solid.

Proportions: The Paso Horse breeds are characterized by their proportions. The height from the withers to the ground must be equal to the height from the highest part of the croup to the ground. The distance from the hock to the bottom of the body (trunk) must be equal to the distance between the bottom of the body (trunk) and the withers. The distance from the shoulder point (chest) to the withers must be equal to the distance from the withers to the hip point and the farthest point of the buttock.

Coat: All colors of coat are allowed except for those classified as disqualifying such as:

- Marks or spots on the body, other than the head: Marks or spots on the body in a location other than the head, corresponding to white coat on pink skin, prevent the participation of the horse in the competition.
- Non-continuos pintos: When there are white spots on the forelegs or hindlegs, being that they do not cross the perimeter line of the transverse plane of the arm or the hock joint, the horse may not compete. It is understood that the white should start at the coronet of the hoof.

4. HORSES WITH IRREGULARITIES OR DEFECTS WHICH ARE ALLOWED FOR YOUTH COMPETITIONS:

- Horses with high socks: When in a horse with a high sock, the white of the affected limb exceeds the perimeter line of the transverse plane of the arm or the hock joint, for purposes of Equitation, it can compete. This can be verified by the crease produced when flexing the joint.
- Facial markings: When the facial marking touches the free edge of either eyelid, the horse may compete for Equitation purposes. When the white facial marking touches or extends beyond the edge of both nostrils to any extent, and the horse has white markings on both lips, it may compete for Equitation purposes.
- Cryptorchid or stallions with testicular issues: A Cryptorchid is one who upon turning 33 months of age, one or two testicles have not descended. In this case, inverted testicles, hypertrophic testicles, atrophic, hypoplasia or evidence of fibrosis is acceptable.
- Horses with silver eyes. Where a white ring is present around the iris
- Fillies or mares with only one teat
- Colts or geldings.
- Not meeting the minimum height requirement
- Horses with one or two missing permanent teeth

5. VARIOUS GAITS OF THE PASO HORSE:

PASO FINO:

The characteristic gait of the horse breed known as Paso Fino, is an evenly spaced four-beat lateral gait with each foot contacting the ground independently in a regular sequence at precise intervals creating a rapid, unbroken rhythm. The sequence of the tread on the transition performed by lateral, successive and alternating bipedal, marking two times with each biped to complete four beats; i.e., the tread of the rear end of a side is followed by the tread of the front end on the same side; then it settles the back leg of the opposite side and, finally, the front end of that same side. In this process the specimen has eight (8) support movements characterized by a triple back support, a double diagonal support, triple previous support, a double lateral support, and then, in a mirror image of the previous, a triple back support, a double diagonal support, triple previous support, and a double lateral support. To carry out this sequence, the interval of the strokes between equidistant lateral and diagonal supports keep a synchronism, which is the fundamental characteristic of the Paso Fino and distinguishes it from other airs. Musically to the ear it translates by rapid movements and equally spaced one-two - three-four (taca, taca, taca, taca).

The horse, in its collected, rhythmic, and cadenced form, executes its limbs with maximum smoothness and elasticity, placing them on the ground in an accelerated manner, separated in a rhythm and cadence equally spaced, with equal pulsation and tempo. It keeps the back and hindquarters with the least possible lateral and vertical movement, in a constant line that is not interrupted by rises and falls, projecting great comfort to the rider. Both horse and rider reflect a unified execution directed by the reins and the bit.

PURE COLOMBIAN TROCHA:

Gait characteristic of some horses, considered an air dissociated into four non-isochronous beats, which are performed in a rhythm and with cadence, and identified by the sound produced by its four beats to execute the sequence of their cycle. Its sound is expressed as follows: tras, tras, tras, tras.

COLOMBIAN GALOPE:

It is a diagonal advancing movement implemented in three stages as follows: a first beat characterized by the impulse of a hind leg, a second beat characterized by the arrival to the floor of the opposite hind leg that started the momentum and diagonal fore leg, and a third beat marked by the arrival to the floor of a foreleg contrary to the hind limb which initiated the momentum. The sound expression of canter tac-tac-tac, tac-tac-tac, tac-tac-tac. In the 3 beat gallop, the transition from trot to gallop, or from trocha to the gallop, should not result in an alteration of comfort for the rider, despite an obvious variation in the magnitude of displacement. In the race of horses they are driven by energy in its hindquarters, and a this becomes a four beat gait.

COLOMBIAN TROTE :

It is a movement made by successive and alternating diagonal pairs executed in two beats that produces a hard blow at the contact with the ground. When you hear it sounds like tas, tas, tas, tas.

6. DEFINITIONS RELATING TO THE MOVEMENTS OF THE PASO HORSES

- Air or Gait: Each of the horse's gaits.
- Dual Gait: Consists of two gaits (Trote and Galope and Trocha and Galope).
- Simple Gait: Consists of a single gait (Paso Fino and Trocha).
- Harmony: Nice combination of sounds and movements, which are both, pleasing to the ear and to the sight
- Beat: Generic name attributed to the beat of a hoof when it settles on the ground, while being in motions any of the extremities.
- Biped: Set of two limbs related by their location relative to a longitudinal imaginary axis that divides the equine in two lateral sectors. It differs from the trains as the bipeds are always formed by one forelimb and one hind limb.
- Diagonal Biped: One that is constituted by one forelimb and one hind limb belonging to different sectors demarcated by the longitudinal axis (hind limb and contrary forelimb).
- Cadence: Frequency of rhythm, represented in number of beats per unit of time.
- Lateral: These are the two extremities that form the bipedal, located on the same side area defined by the said longitudinal axis

- Member: Term, which denotes any extremity of the horse, each of the forelimbs or hind limbs of a horse.
- Rhythm: Consecutive, regular and harmonious sounds produced by the limbs of the horse in motion. Proportion maintained between the time of one movement and that of another.
- Time: Every step or basic sequence that can be achieved by observing a limb of the horse in motion. We can establish four basic times in the movement of any limb:
 - Impulse: This is a moment when the limb executes the action to propel and start the march
 - Elevation: As the name suggests, it refers to the take-off movement of the hoof from the ground to the moment the limb reaches its highest point of execution.
 - Displacement: Is the movement of the limb in the horizontal plane.
 - Support: The contact the hoof makes with the ground once more
 - Train/Limbs: Set of two beats that are classified by their location on the back of the horse, in relation to an imaginary axis transverse to it.
 - Forelimbs: Set of two members located in relation to the transverse axis of the horse's back as front (forehand and forehand)
 - Hind limbs: Set of members that, in relation to the transverse axis of the horse's back, are located in the posterior sector of the area crossed by it (hind leg and hind leg)

7. PRESENTATION

Reins and Headgear

The headstall must be comfortable, not too tight or too loose. The headstall can be made of cotton, suede, leather or synthetic leather, only one color or a combination of colors such as black, brown or undyed leather; one (1) additional color is accepted as long as this does not change the aesthetic or appearance of the before mentioned colors. The use of any metal elements in the headstall, even if these are covered or lined, is not permitted.

The rein must be white, black, or brown in color, without any adornment or difference that marks the correct area where it should be held. The use of carabiners or clips is prohibited.

Saddle:

The saddle to be used should be the English version, or the Colombian Criollo version, made of leather or synthetic leather, either black or brown or a combination thereof. The use of training saddles such as 'tereques' are not permitted. The stirrup leathers shall be a maximum of five centimeters (5 cm) or 2 inches (2') wide. The stirrups may be metal, or leather covered. The stirrups should be symmetrical in all its parts, including the base, it cannot have any alterations that effect the weight or the placement of the feet in the stirrup. In the Mini categories safety stirrups are allowed to be used. The stirrup leathers should go on the outside of the saddle flap. The cinch should be a maximum of ten centimeters (10 cm.) or four inches (4 inches) in width, and can be leather, cotton or neoprene.

The saddle cannot contain elements or different materials on the flaps which limit free movement of the competitor's legs or provide support to the legs in the saddle.

The use of a saddle pad is optional, and in case of usage it can be cotton, felt, leather or neoprene. On the saddle pads there cannot be any logos or other features which identify a stable, breeder or other business. Only saddle pads of a single color can be used such as white, black, brown and can have the flag of the country which the rider represents on it. The use of a tail crupper is optional, and when used should only be one strap.

The use of a breast collar is optional, and when used should be smooth, black or brown in color, made of leather whose measurement does not exceed two inches (2") in width. It should be in a V-shape, with a metal ring at the heart, two straps connected to the saddle, one strap connected to the cinch, all straps ending in leather.

Bits, snaffles, curb chains and/or use of rings

The bits must be regulated with the following specifications: a six (6") inch bit shank, a three (3") inch bit port, in horses under 60 months, the port must not exceed two (2) inches or five (5) cm; in horses over sixty (60) months, the port must not exceed two point seventy-six (2.76") inches or seven (7) centimeters. This is for the safety of the rider and horse and to prevent harm to the horse's health. The bit shanks must not exceed fifteen centimeters (15 cm) or six inches (6 inches), measured from the base of the reins. The reins can be made of leather, nylon, or cotton, round or flat, and in white, black, or brown color.

The use of bits with inverted shanks (shanks oriented in the direction opposite to the horse's body) is prohibited.

The bits may have ports and must have shanks with the specifications mentioned above. Similarly, the bits must be cylindrical, mobile, smooth, with links that are not at the level of the seats, and without any sharp or cutting effects.
